The Two Winstons (1910-present day) (CC)
In the final program, Simon Schama draws on the lives of Winston Churchill and George Orwell to explore the relevance of history in modern times and what lessons can be learned. Although politically poles apart, Churchill and Orwell experienced the same key events of the 20th century – World Wars I and II, the Great Depression, the end of the empire, and the rise of socialism. While Churchill celebrated British history, Orwell, through characters such as Winston Smith in the novel 1984, asked hard questions about it. 14+

The Rough Scientists design a cooling system for their very own spacesuit and test it out in Death Valley, where Ellen does a mock moon walk. Will she stay deliciously cool? C

7:00 p.m.
That’ll Teach ’Em (CC)
Coeducation doesn’t seem to be working well: boys are falling behind girls, especially in science, traditionally a boys’ domain. Thirty teens test whether splitting them up improves results in strict 1950s-style single-sex classes. Will an old-fashioned hands-on approach to science help the boys close the gap? C

8:00 p.m.
New Tricks
5 of 8 (CC)
The murder of a peace campaigner at a NATO base in 1984 leads the team to investigate the Special Branch. Pullman wants to contact the secret service to get their side of the story, but Halford, Standing, and Lane fear a conspiracy. 14+
